

Your data will be processed and included in a file owned by UCLG in order to manage registration to the event, to assess the number of visitors, provide support in booking accommodation and other related services, the organization of networking activities and foster cooperation amongst participants and relationships with destination cities. For the latter purpose, data may also be communicated to public entities in the destination city (Embassies, local bodies and ministries).

Likewise, your data will be used for sending communications and information relating to other events in which UCLG participates and for carrying out monitoring, statistics and the analysis of the emails that we send in order to verify correct delivery, assess the response received and improve our communication with addressees.

During the event UCLG will publish images, texts and videos worldwide of attendees or speakers for promotional purposes and in compliance with the objectives set out in its Constitution. These publications will be made through various means and formats (Internet, social networks, brochures, publications, press, etc.) without such activities implying a right of compensation in favour of the affected, nor are mandatory. If you have any objections, you should inform the World Secretariat before the event (lop@uclg.org). If you complete the registration form on behalf of others, you should inform them about the content of this clause.

You may consult our Security and Privacy Policy (https://www.uclg.org/sites/default/files/en_security_privacy.pdf) and exercise your rights by submitting a request addressed to UCLG (Carrer Avinyó 15 \(08002\) Barcelona, Spain) attaching a photocopy of your ID or passport.
